Press Release – For Immediate Release

The Patient Experience Symposium announces partnership with Inspire

January 9, 2020

BOSTON – (January 9, 2020) – As a part of The 4th Annual Patient Experience Symposium, Inspire will be sponsoring an important session on Monday, May 11, 2020, at The Row Hotel, Boston, MA, entitled “Reimagining Patient Healthcare: A Patient’s Journey”, led by Mike Biselli, Community Builder and HealthTech Entrepreneur.

“We’re excited to have Inspire bring patient experience to the forefront of the conversation at this year’s symposium,” said Bill Doherty, ICDevents President and Conference Director.

“Collaborating with ICDevents on this conference is a natural fit for us,” said John Novack, Inspire’s Head of Patient Engagement, “and we’re proud to help shape the special session involving patients.”

New for 2020, The Patient Experience Symposium has extended the conference to three full days, broadening its content for attendees. Learning Labs, which are in-depth and interactive sessions, have been added each day, and two new educational tracks have also been added: Patient Experience in Clinical Research; How to Harness Large Health Systems and The Role of New Technologies in HealthCare.
